AMERICAN PORK.

Germany Removes the Embargo on This Product.

SECRETARY RUSK SATISFIED.

The One Object of the Secretary of Agriculture Accomplished—The Farmers' Alliance and the Present Political Situation—Other News from Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A representative of the United Press called upon Secretary Rusk yesterday and showed him a cablegram that he had just received from Berlin, as follows:

"The German government has raised the embargo on American pork. The official declaration will be delayed."

The secretary stated that no official notification had been received by him in confirmation of this statement, but he added that if such action had not already been determined upon, he had very little doubt it would soon be.

"The removal of this embargo," said the secretary, "on American pork products in Germany was one of the first things which I determined to accomplish, if possible, on assuming my present office. Immediately on the passage of the Edmunds bill, on Aug. 10, 1890, I took steps through the department of state to present to the German government in the strongest manner, the propriety, in view of the provision made in that law for the inspection of American salt pork meats, to grant our exporters relief from the prohibition actually existing on all American pork. The result of the negotiations showed me that to obtain adequate concessions from the German government, it would be necessary for us to provide for a microscopical examination of all pork destined for their trade."

"I am quite convinced of the disposition of the German government to deal fairly with us in this matter, and to take into account the desirability for the people of both countries to maintain the friendliest trade relations, and it is in his conviction that I declare my belief that though we have not yet received any official notification in conformity with the words of the cablegram submitted to me, that we can look for some such course on the part of the German government ere long."

"Efforts were constantly made to secure necessary legislation, resulting in the passage of the act of March 3, 1891, upon which the re-export regulations issued by this department are based and on March 5 I caused the provisions of the law to be communicated to the German government, through the department of state and our minister in Berlin, accompanied by the declaration that this document was prepared to afford to the government of Germany the most thorough and satisfactory guarantee of the immunity of all exports of American pork to that country from trichinæ and any disease affecting the wholesomeness of the meat."

Attitude of the Farmers' Alliance.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator Edmunds is out in an interview on the general political situation and the probable outcome of the continuance of the Farmers' Alliance movement and agitation of the silver question. The attitude of the two great parties in respect to each other and public affairs, he thinks, is unchanged. The Republicans continue to favor protection to American labor and industry, while the Democrats, under the name of "Tariff Reform," appear to be in favor of encouraging the consumption of foreign made articles. What the effect of the Farmers' Alliance movement will be upon the next National election no one, thinks, can foresee with precision.

When asked if he thought the silver question would be an issue in the next presidential election, he said: "I don't think it will be an issue between the Republican and Democratic parties for I think that the Democratic party will hardly wish to make the silver question an issue to the extent of running any considerable risk of separating silver and gold as the coin money of the country, and certainly the great body of the Republican party is sure to do so." Up to the point of safety I will not. Up to the point of safety I have no doubt the Republican party will be in favor of using silver as money as it always has been. As the Farmers' Alliance platform, if it should nominate a candidate for president, will be on that topic I am quite unable to say."

New Design for Coins.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Mr. Edward O. Leach, director of the mint, will probably issue a circular to-morrow to artists for new designs for subsidiary coins. The general features of the present coins will be preserved to a considerable extent. The coins to be changed are the silver dollar, the half dollar, the quarter dollar and the dime. These changes are to be made under the act passed at the last session of congress, which appropriated $150,000 for the purpose, and is available July 1. Director Leach thinks that from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 of the unavaluable assets of $0,000,000 in the treasury can be recoinced with this appropriation. The gold coins are considered satisfactory and will not be changed. The mandatory coinage of the silver dollar ceases on July 1. After that date the trade dollar bullion in the treasury will be recoinced into silver dollars. The designs, after being selected, will not be changed for twenty-five years. The circular will call for the submission for the new designs by June 1.

Land Entries Refused.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Secretary Noble yesterday rendered a decision rejecting applications to perfect forty-three entries under the timber and stone acts made by members of the Keweenah operative colony in California now within the Sequoia National park reservation. These cases have been in contention before the department since 1890. The secretary in his decision holds that the applications to purchase under the acts mentioned, are not entries of land and the parties making them acquire no vested rights; and it was competent for congress to reserve this land, which it did by acts creating the reservation.

The secretary also holds that a valid homestead entry excepts the land from the reservation, but in case the entrymen fail to perfect their title, the entries should be cancelled. The colonists on this land have already expended $100,000 in various improvements which they must seek through congress.

Reciprocity with Canada.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Sir Charles Tupper, Sir John S. D. Thompson, Canadian minister of justice and minister, minister of finance, who were at a late hour last night was accompanied by Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, will have an interview with Secretary Blaine to-day, and lay before him the proposals of the Canadian government, heretofore published, for reciprocal trade relations. The conferences will be secret, and are preliminary to the appointment of commissioners by both the United States and Great Britain to formally negotiate.

Special Weather Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The signal office furnishes the following special bulletin to the press: The weather reports from Florida and southern Georgia indicate the occurrence there of the coldest weather on record for this season of the year. The minimum temperatures at Savannah and Jacksonville were 30 degrees and 34 degrees respectively, which were 3 degrees below the lowest previously recorded during the first decade of April. Light frosts occurred at Savannah and Pensacola and killing frosts at Mobile and Jacksonville, which at the last named station is about two weeks later than any of which record has been made. It is probable that through the south Atlantic and east gulf state considerable damage resulted to early fruits and vegetables from the frosts of the Sunday and Monday mornings.

Pension Office Work.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The pension office during the week ending March 28 issued 6,044 pension certificates of all classes, the average first payment on each being $118.57. Under the provisions of general pension laws 2,177 were granted, and under the dependent pension law 4,037.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Assistant Secretary Spaulding has decided that tea imported from China and Japan must be marked with the name of the country in which the tea is grown, and not the intermediate country of shipment.

DUEL IN THE STREET.

Miner Killed by a Saloon Keeper at Middletown.

MIDDLETOWN, Ky., April 7.—One of the most desperate conflicts between man and man that has ever taken place in this vicinity, and which has added another dark stain to the pages of the criminal history of southeastern Kentucky, occurred Sunday at a saloon, two miles west of this city, on Bennett's Fork of Yellow creek. The participants in the tragedy were Adam Lejere, a saloon keeper, and Linsey Leach, a miner.

Lejere and Leach met in the above saloon and fell out over a woman, whom it is said, was living with Leach as his wife. Hot words, superinduced by bad whisky, followed. They then left the house, and when upon the outside turned face to face, and without a word both drew the guns. Lejere with a .38 Smith and Wesson and a .45 Colt, and Leach with a .38 Smith and Wesson. Both men were game. They eyed each other for an instant and then the deadly work began. A fusilade of shots followed.

When the smoke cleared away Leach was seen to stagger a short distance and fall dead, with a bullet through his abdomen. Lejere was untouched, and immediately after the shooting fled. He was met going up the mountain side by a gentleman, to whom he exhibited his coat. He was riddled with bullets. Lejere then disappeared in the mountain fastnesses.

Italy's Demands.

TORONTO, April 7.—Signor Prado Valmini, an Italian of distinction and an official of his government, was interviewed on the New Orleans affair as he was passing through this city on his way to Japan yesterday. Valmini declares that the Italian government would insist upon the stand already taken and that no settlement would be arrived at until the families of the murdered men had been compensated and the "assassins" arrested and placed on trial. He further declared that the men who led the mob would be arrested before another week or the flag of Italy would fly over the city of New Orleans within a month.

Paymaster McClure's Murderers.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 7.—A prominent Italian merchant of this city said to a reporter yesterday that Bevilino, one of the murderers of Paymaster McClure, was dead. In proof of this statement he showed a letter announcing that Bevilino had died in prison while serving a twenty years sentence. Valilla, the other murderer, is still alive and believed to be at liberty. The general belief here is that his extradition will be demanded by Secretary Blaine.

Spinners Quit Work.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 7.—The spinners employed by the Jesse Eddy Manufacturing company recently made a demand for an increase in wages from $1.25 to $1.35. The company refused with this appropriation. The gold coins are considered satisfactory and will not be changed. The mandatory coinage of the silver dollar ceases on July 1. After that date the trade dollar bullion in the treasury will be recoinced into silver dollars. The designs, after being selected, will not be changed for twenty-five years. The circular will call for the submission for the new designs by June 1.

TRADE RELATIONS.

Reciprocity With Our Canadian Neighbor.

NEGOTIATIONS POSTPONED.

No Settlement Will Be Reached Until the President Returns from His Trip to California—What Has Already Been Done.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The preliminary negotiations between Secretary Blaine and the representatives of the Canadian government, who arrived in Washington Sunday, towards the settlement of the reciprocity matter and other questions of mutual interest to the United States and Canada, have been suspended for the present.

The suspension, however, is not the result of any serious differences of opinion between the respective negotiators but is the result of the desire of President Harrison to be in Washington while the negotiations are on. As the president will leave on his southern western trip on the 14th inst., he would have been out of the city most, if not the whole, of the time the conference was being held, had the original intention of the negotiators been carried out.

Shortly before noon Monday Sir Charles Tupper, high commissioner for Canada in London; Sir John S. D. Thompson, the Canadian minister of justice, and Hon. C. E. Foster, the Canadian minister of finance, who are to represent the Canadian government in the negotiations, left their hotel for the residence of Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, thence proceeding in company with Sir Julian to the residence of Secretary Blaine. After the usual courtesies had been exchanged, Mr. Blaine told the commissioners that on account of the disposition of the president he would be obliged to ask for a suspension of the negotiations for the present.

Sir Charles Tupper, in an interview with a United Press reporter Monday afternoon, said that when he visited Mr. Blaine at the state department on Thursday last, he made arrangements for the meeting Monday. "I returned immediately to Canada," said Sir Charles, "informed my colleagues of the arrangements made, and we left Ottawa for Washington at once, arriving here last night. When we called on Mr. Blaine this morning he explained to us that as the president desired to be in Washington while the negotiations were going on and as he was about to leave Washington on his extended trip in a short time, it was desirable that the negotiations should be postponed for the present. We were pleased to agree to the request, and we will leave Washington to-day, returning when the president is in a position to allow us to proceed."

It seems that Mr. Blaine after making the engagement with Sir Charles, informed the president of what he had done and learned for the first time that the president wanted the negotiations suspended while he was away from Washington. Sir Julian Pauncefote was notified of the desired change in the program, and he telegraphed Sir Charles Tupper at Ottawa not to come to Washington. The dispatch was not received, however, before the commissioners left Ottawa.

The commissioners and Mr. Chipman, Sir Charles' secretary, had luncheon with Sir Julian Pauncefote Monday afternoon and later they left for New York, whence Sir Charles will sail for England and the others proceeding to Ottawa.

Points to Be Discussed.

The following are the propositions to be discussed at the conference:

First—The renewal of the reciprocity treaty of 1884 with such modifications as will suit the altered circumstances of both countries.

Second—The reconsideration of the treaty of 1888 with respect to the Atlantic fisheries with the aim of securing free admission into the United States markets of Canadian fishery products in return for facilities to be granted the United States fishermen to buy bait and supplies and to tranship cargoes to Canada, all such privileges to be mutual.

Third—Protection of mackerel and other fisheries of the Atlantic ocean and inland waters also.

Fourth—The relaxation of the seaboard inland coasting laws of the two countries.

Fifth—Mutual salvage and saving of wrecked vessels.

Sixth—An arrangement for settling the boundary between Canada and this country.

Train Wrecked.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 7.—The Owl express train on the Boston and Albany railroad, which left this city at 9:40 last night, was wrecked at Lee's crossing, near Westfield. The locomotive and two mail cars were thrown down an embankment. Engineer Marshall, of Albany, a passenger master, and fireman Howard were injured. They were taken to Westfield, where they are being cared for. No passengers were hurt. A wrecking train has left for the scene of the wreck.

Still Missing.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 7.—Nothing as yet been learned of the whereabouts of Harry Donovan, the 7-year-old boy who was abducted last Friday. Miss Clara Lete, the woman who took the boy from the school house, has been arrested. She claims that she did not know that she was acting criminally, and she took the boy from school at the request of his grandmother, Mrs. Ran-

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1891.

The Courier-Journal has seen nothing good in the work of the Con. Con. ever since the office of Public Printer was abolished. It is already engaged in an effort to defeat the new Constitution, but if we mistake not it is doomed to disappointment, if it cherishes hopes of success.

Twenty-nine years ago to-day the great and bloody battle of Shiloh occurred, in which so many gallant Kentuckians lost their lives. The Generals most prominent in this action on opposing sides were Albert Sidney Johnston and Wm. Nelson, both being Mason Countians and well known to each other. They were splendid soldiers and as fine specimens of manhood as the war produced. General Johnston was a great favorite of President Davis, himself a native of Kentuckian, who had high hopes of him and great faith in his abilities as a Commander, but fate had decreed against him, and his life went out in glory at this his first great battle.

The Con. Con. has adopted a clause which says that no convicts shall be worked outside of the prison walls except upon public works of the State, or when circumstances arise which prevent their being kept in the penitentiary. It was deemed necessary to give the Legislature a little discretion in the matter, so that should an emergency arise it would be able to meet it. It was also determined that the State shall not part with its discipline of the convicts nor turn the care of them over to other hands. The State must provide food and clothing and look after the general physical and moral condition of the prisoners. Only their labor may be leased.

The fate of the proposed new Constitution will be settled next August. At the general election on the first Monday in that month the voters will either ratify or reject the work of the present convention. The section on this subject was adopted yesterday and is as follows:

"That on each page of the poll books prepared for recording the votes of the qualified voters of the various voting places in this Commonwealth at the general election to be held therein on the first Monday in August next, there shall be two contiguous parallel columns, one headed 'For the Constitution' and the other 'Against the Constitution,' and each qualified voter, on casting his vote, shall be distinctly asked by one of the officers holding the election: 'Do you vote for or against the new Constitution?' and if he desire to vote his vote shall be recorded in his presence in the proper column, according as he shall answer."

What Does Ingersoll Believe?

[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll has given evidence of late that his views upon the future state are undergoing something of a change. He is not as antagonistic as he was. He has lost his pugnaciousness. The sneer at all things religious is wanting. He seems to have arrived at that point where he is really to believe in the possibility that death does not end all. At the Broadway Theater, on Sunday night, he lectured on Shakespeare, prefacing his remarks with a tribute to Barrett. "My heart tells me that on the threshold of this address it will be appropriate," he said, "to say a few words about the great actor who has just fallen into that sleep we call death." He ended his tribute with these words:

"In the drama of our human life all are actors and no one knows his part."

"One by one the players leave the stage and others take their places. There is no pause—the play goes on. No prompter's voice is heard and no one has the slightest clew as to what the next scene is to be."

"Will this great drama have an end? Will the curtain fall at last? Will it rise again upon some other stage? Reason says perhaps, and hope still whispers yes."

"Reason says perhaps." That is the furthest that Ingersoll has ever gone. His reason heretofore has led him to declare the reverse. And when to reason he adds "hope," he is getting dangerously near the line when infidelity merges into Christianity.

Progress.

GORMAN'S RECIPE.

All the South Needs is Capital and To Be Let Alone.

BALTIMORE, April 7.—Senator Gorman returned from his southern trip with his health wonderfully improved. He declared that what he had seen in the south convinced him that its future development is beyond calculation. Upon being asked as to the political bearing of his trip, Senator Gorman promptly denied that it had any.

"Some dispatches quoted you as having made some comments on the sentiment expressed in the south on Cleveland or Hill."

"Then," answered Mr. Gorman, "such stories were made out of whole cloth. There was not a word of truth in them. I most carefully abstained from any and all political allusions. I do not think that I can make a more emphatic denial than that."

Returning to the subject of southern progress, Mr. Gorman said, "What I was not prepared to find, perhaps, struck me with especial force. It was that people who belong down south—the natives—are manifesting an activity in the development of their section of the country that has been lost sight of by many in the north. Northern capital is doing a great deal, to be sure, but it is not doing everything. Southern brains and southern money are playing an equal, indeed, I can safely say, a greater part, in the industrial progress."

The senator then discussed in detail the various evidences of progress he had seen in every town and hamlet. He concluded by saying: "What the south needs is simply capital, and to let alone."

An Assailed Policeman Uses His Gun.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Officer John Uhrig, of the Desplaines Street police station, shot Edward Mahoney dead and wounded John Mahan in the right leg about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The men were trying to break in the door of a saloon at 273 West Lake street, where they claimed they had been robbed, and when the policeman advised them to go home and get a warrant Monday for the bartender's arrest, the men turned on him and began beating him unmercifully. Policeman Uhrig then drew his revolver and fired at close range, with the above result.

Murderer Confesses.

GOSHEN, Ind., April 7.—One of the tramps arrested here Sunday charged with the murder of Alex. Snyder has confessed. He says he knew Snyder's wife in New York and she told him the old man kept a large amount of money about the house. Acting upon this information he and his partner came west with the intention of getting hold of the cash. They awakened the old man, and to quiet him, gave him a blow over the head, but did not intend to kill him. They failed to get the money and were returning east when arrested.

The Maysville's efficient postmaster, Mr. Thomas A. Davis, has placed the BULLETIN under renewed obligations. Through his kindness we are enabled to give the above figures, and it is the first time such an exhibit has ever been made. The office never was in better condition than at present. In all its appointments, it is second to none in the State. The receipts from the sale of stamps for the last "allowance year" show an increase of more than $1,000 over the sales for the previous year, and were the largest in the history of the office. At the present rate of increase the $10,000 notch will be reached this year, and you needn't be surprised to see it go above this figure by April 1, 1892.

At the annual election of the Maysville and Bracken Turnpike Road Company yesterday the following officers and directors were chosen for the ensuing fiscal year:

W. M. MONROE, aged sixty-eight, and Mrs. Mattie Alfred, aged forty-eight, came down from Fayette County last evening and were married at the County Clerk's office by Judge Phister. It is the second matrimonial venture of both bride and groom. Mr. Monroe is rather poetically inclined for an old man. When asked if he would take Mattie to be his wife, and would love, honor, cherish and keep her, he stated in emphatic terms that "that was just what he proposed to do." When pronounced husband and wife, he exclaimed:

"Peace at home,
Pleasure abroad,
Love my wife
And praise the Lord."

PEAN WHEAT.

The Condition of the Present Crop.

IT IS CONSIDERED A FAILURE.

English Farmers Expect the Price of Wheat to Reach the Highest Figure That It Has for Years—Various Other News from Foreign Ports.

LONDON, April 7.—The Standard publishes a long and careful review of the agricultural outlook, in the course of which it says that the steady rise in wheat revives the hopes of the English farmer, adding that wheat will probably reach the highest price in many years, the principal cause of the rise being the failure of foreign crops.

The wheat crops of France and Russia, according to The Standard, are much below the average, and the same paper says the deficiency will be at least 20,000,000 quarters, adding: "It is expected that cold winds and frosts have almost destroyed the French crops. Germany, Holland and Belgium all furnish pessimist reports. In Roumania there is a decreased wheat area, and in India there has been a bad wheat season.

The only exception is Hungary, where there are better prospects, but it is almost certain that the world's wheat consumption will exceed the production computed. Whatever the magnitude of America's crop may be it will not be sufficient to cover the European deficit, thus compelling an extensive draft upon the reserves for the third year in succession."

The Standard, in conclusion, says: "The increased home consumption, the decreased wheat area, owing to the spread of population and recourse to scientific tillage in order to repair the waste of first settlers, thus compelling the cost of production must inevitably remove the American farmers' formidable competition in European markets, and allow the English farmer to look forward to a prosperous future."

War Clouds in India.

CALCUTTA, April 7.—If present indications turn out to be correct there is very serious trouble brewing in India for the British forces. Emboldened by the success of the Manipuris, who recently crushed the Ghorka escort accompanying Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton in his efforts to settle the disputes which have occurred among the rival chieftains of Assam, the Miranzai, in the Cachet territory, a district of the Peshawar division of the Punjab, have arisen in arms and are attacking the British troops along the whole length of their lines. It is also known that the Miranzai attack is being pushed so vigorously that strong reinforcements have been hurriedly dispatched to the front.

"The Thunderer" on Uncle Sam's Navy.

LONDON, April 7.—The Philadelphia correspondent of The Times give a long account of the American navy. The Times devotes a critical editorial to the subject, dwelling mainly upon the likelihood that when the American ironclads are carrying a full coal supply their speed will be largely reduced. The Times concludes: If the greatest boldness of American designers is really based upon sound judgment, we need not regret it. We shall equally profit in the long run by their experience, whether it results in failure or success. We may, therefore, watch with keen sympathy associated friendly workers on the same problem.

The Ministry Cools Down.

LONDON, April 7.—The Times' Rome correspondent says: The arrival of the text of Baron Favas's first note showed that the misunderstanding was due to Mr. Blaine's interpreting the demand for trial as a demand for conviction. The ministry is indisposed to push the matter beyond a demand for recognition of the principle of international justice. The excitement has entirely subsided.

An Italian Echo.

PARIS, April 7.—A prominent Italian said that the Republicans in Italy, who form a powerful minority, entertain a friendly feeling for America and would consider a war with the United States simply an attempt to discredit republican institutions in the eyes of the Italian people.

All Quiet at Rome.

LONDON, April 7.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily News says that owing to the moderation of Italy's demands, the New Orleans dispute has entered a quiet phase, and that all danger of complications will be avoided.

The War Flurry is Over.

LONDON, April 7.—The Italian cabinet has telegraphed all its consuls in the United States to act with calmness and prudence.

Long Wakefulness Ended.

DETROIT, April 7.—George Cunningham completed his sleeping fast at noon yesterday and won the prize of $500. He was the only one of the six contestants to keep awake the entire 108 hours. Four of his competitors had dropped out to Sunday and last night. Townsend, an old time pedestrian had also collapsed, and now exhibits strong signs of insanity. Physicians think Cunningham can hardly escape serious mental impairment.

Barn Burned.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 7.—An old barn belonging to Mrs. Emma Zoller, and used by Charles Gass, carriage manufacturer, as a store house, burned last night, and a number of carriages and buggies, together with unfinished stock, belonging to Mr. Gass, were consumed. Loss $2,000; insurance $500, in the Rochester German. The cause is charged to incendiary.

Overdose of Morphine.

DEFIANCE, O., April 7.—James W. Jarvis, aged about 60 years, an employee in the paper mills here, died yesterday from an overdose of morphine. He was addicted to the use of the drug, but it could not be determined whether he took the fatal dose with intent to suicide or not.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best of All.

LATROBE, Pa., Jan. 27, 1891.
Messrs. Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa, Gentlemen: You have helped me considerably with a good medicine and splendid advertising. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the most popular cough medicine I handle.

Mrs. Griffith, wife of Supt. of the Latrobe steel works, always has your Cough Remedy in her house. I persuaded her to try it months ago; yesterday sold her the fourth bottle.

Samuel Osborne, a prominent contractor, tells me: "John MacMillan, you can't say too much for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Say all you can and I will put my name to it."

"Mr. MacMillan you remember asking me to try, just to try, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for that terrible cough which I carried for months. Well! That cough is gone. Oh! My name is Miss Weis."

Mr. Jos. Barnett, our bank cashier, had a tickling in his throat for four or five nights: "Mac, one dose only of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I slept until morning."

Gentlemen, these are samples of hundreds that I know.

Think of the vast number of cough syrups sold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy exceeds them all. Sincerely yours,

JNO. C. MACMILLAN,
Proprietor of the Corner Drug Store.

The "breaks" were very near the same size as previous week, and the receipts remain of only fair size, caused in part by shippers holding their tobacco in the country waiting for the market to open in April. This is especially the case with the better grades, which have, in many cases, been hung to re-dry and will not be shipped for several months. The market opened with small breaks, and there was a good steady market, Wednesday and Thursday the offerings were large, and a firm, active market prevailed. Good and fine leaf (old) was in active request, being sought after and bringing full prices. Cigar and pipe leaf was also at full prices. Medium leaf was good demand, and the common grades held in steady request and sold well. There is a firm market for medium and good leaf (new), which is taken at full prices, as is also all grades showing color and character. Common trash, lugs and nondescripts, which are in large supply, are in only limited demand, and prices, as a rule, not satisfactory. Friday there was no market at all, and the offerings were very small, and the week's sales closed with a good firm market.

From the 2,300 hds, 566 sold from $1 to $3.95. 613 from $4 to $5.95, 370 from $6 to $7.90, 200 from $8 to $9.95, 344 from $10 to $14.75, 232 from $15 to $19.75, 29 from $20 to $24.25, and 6 at $25, $25.75, $26, $28, $29, $30.

Louisville Tobacco Market

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, proprietors Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,432 hds., with receipts for the same period of 1,805 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 45,912 hds. Sales of the crop of 1890 on our market up to this date 29,462 hds.

The market for medium burleys was a little irregular the first of the week, but since that time they have been improving in price and close stronger than they have been for some time past. From good to fine grades are scarce and are freely taken at satisfactory prices; the same applies to everything with color from the common to the best. The only sooty ones remain dull and low are common house-burned, cloudy leaf and dark trash. Old burleys have been scarce and prices are very much better.
